'95 PRODUCT POSITIONING

Tahoe 2-Door is positioned as the rugged, multi-purpose family vehicle that's at home on road or off. Its Insta-Trac® system (standard on 4x4 models), powerful 5.7L V8 engine, 2- or 4-door availability (interim '95), ABS and high ground clearance are impressive credentials.

New Tahoe owners rank features that support an active lifestyle, such as towing capacity, versatility and rain/snow traction, as top reasons for purchase.

Tahoe owners are generally more affluent than other segment buyers. They're usually young married males who tend to work in either managerial or labor-related fields.

- The Blazer name for the Chevrolet full-size sport utility has been deleted for 1995.
- In its place is the name "Tahoe."
- Cheyenne and Silverado trim level names have been deleted. They have been replaced by "Base" and "LS/LT," respectively, where LS refers to uplevel trim with Custom Cloth and LT refers to the available interior with leather seating surfaces. The Sport trim name, however, remains the same and is contented as a marketing package (BYP).
- Deluxe Two-Tone paint scheme (RPO ZY4) has been deleted.
- Dark Autumnwood Metallic paint has been deleted.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION ON SIGNIFICANT FEATURES

- New Tahoe name identification. For 1995, all Chevy Full-Size Sport Utility models are called Tahoe. This new name clearly separates full-size and compact Chevrolet sport utilities, thus helping strengthen the identity of both in the highly competitive sport utility market segment.
- New 4-door Tahoe model (interim 1995). Because of the growing popularity of the 4-door sport utility market segment, Tahoe will be available in a 4-door model beginning January '95. Featured will be Suburban styling and chassis features on a shorter wheelbase, panel rear cargo doors, LS/LT (uplevel) trim level and full-size spare tire stowed underbody.
- New standard driver-side air bag (Supplemental Inflatable Restraint). An important safety feature, it can help protect the driver in certain moderate to severe frontal collisions. Always wear safety belts, even with air bags.
- New interior. Tahoe for 1995 boasts a more appealing interior than ever before, thanks to features like a new instrument panel, new door panels, new floor console (with bucket seats only), new, more comfortable seats and new interior colors. Power windows, power door locks and power mirrors are standard on uplevel LS/LT. In addition, all uplevel seats have power lumbar support and front seat-back storage nets.
