General Motors Voluntary Report of 2016 Political Contributions

Details of employee contributions to the federal GM Political Action Committee (PAC) and the GM PAC's contributions to candidates, party committees and other PACs can be found on the FEC website: <http://www.fec.gov>

GM's voluntary disclosure represents every effort and intention to fully report all such contributions. However, given the scope and size of GM's operations and the variety of contribution channels, some contributions could be inadvertently omitted from this initial disclosure. If GM is made aware of additional contributions through its own review process, employees or by other means and sources outside the company, it will immediately disclose those contributions by posting a revised report.
